

FREE SCORE CARDS FOR BETTER BABIES CONTEST

Dr. A. R. Lewis, State Commissioner of Health, has announced that the contest for better babies should be more nearly perfect, and that the country-wide interest in these contests should be increased. The state department of health has now ready for distribution a set of cards for better baby contests for children up to four years of age. These cards will be sent free of charge upon request.

According to the score system of the card fifty points are allowed for a perfect general examination. The measurements are taken to determine whether or not a baby conforms to the average height, weight and size for its age.

A normal six months old baby should be able to sit up unsupported for a few minutes; its eyes should follow a light object, and it should look in the direction of an unexpected sound. It should be able to seize an object and hold it. If it does all these things, it has passed a perfect mental test for its age. Each child takes the test for its own age alone. Five points are counted on attention, facial expression, irritability and disposition.

At twelve months the child should stand and walk with support. It should make a few sounds in imitation of words. It should play with toys and show an interest in pictures. It should attempt to use pencil and paper.

At two years the child should run and be able to repeat two or three words. It should know features, obey simple commands, and imitate movements.

At three years the child should talk distinctly; should repeat sentences of six simple words; should know its name, be able to enumerate objects in a complex picture and attempt to describe it. Should be able to repeat two numerals. Should know sex.

The mental test is the same for both sexes. The boasted intellectual superiority of the male over the female does not exist in babies. The baby with its mouth habitually open is not a prize baby, but a half point. Parents would do well to note that pacifiers or high-backed often cause deformities that will reduce the child's score half a point.

BOYS WOULD WORK THEIR WAY THROUGH THE NORMAL

President Bennett announces that there are twenty-five young men, who wish to work their way through the Southeastern State Normal this year. These boys are finding homes in the city where they obtain meals and lodging for doing chores and other work about the place and receive a small sum of money as well. There are still several who have not been cared for, it is announced. In every university there are numerous boys who by working before and after class hours are enabled to get through their course. These kind of boys usually appreciate the value of an education more than do those whose parents have ample funds to pay their expenses, and the result is that they usually apply themselves more industriously to their studies.

HAS NO DIVORCE LAW

South Carolina is the only state which has no divorce law. A divorce cannot be obtained on any ground whatever in that state, which goes so far as to forbid by law the marriage of persons getting divorces elsewhere. According, as reported by the Episcopal Bishop of South Carolina no other state has a purer home life.

VETERANS GET REDUCED FARE TO LEGION MEET

Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the American Legion, will be a guest of the Oklahoma department at its annual convention at Enid on September 26 and 27. Bolles will address the convention at its opening session as the representative of national headquarters.

Reduced fare certificates on which Legionnaires and members of the auxiliary may obtain a rate of 1 4-5 cents per mile to attend the convention are being sent from state headquarters to all post adjutants.

A boxing contest will be staged for the entertainment of Legion men on the first night of the convention. Golf, tennis, marksmanship and horseshoe pitching tournaments will open on the 25th and be completed on the afternoon of the first day of the convention.

Flags won by two Legion posts in membership contests will be awarded at the convention. One flag will go to Melford post No. 37 and the other to Roy L. Rinker post No. 225 of Apache.

Lauding their home cities to the skies and promising royal entertainment Legion posts at Bartlesville, Conca City, Lawton and Shawnee have already begun their campaigns to land the next state convention. Bands, posters, letters and large delegations are being arranged to help land the meeting.

THESE PIGS MADE HOGS OF THEMSELVES OVER A FEAST OF "CHOC" BEER

Twenty gallons of "choc" beer confiscated by police officers in a recent raid in Dallas caused a number of the pigs at the Municipal Farm to get on a jag, according to Superintendent Walter Means. The "choc" was turned over to the farm to be added to the swill for the pigs. Several of the animals were noticed staggering around in the pens and an investigation disclosed the cause.

Superintendent Means called upon inmates of the farm to aid in rushing the sober porkers into another enclosure away from those that had partaken of the intoxicating swill. He notified Chief of Police Strait that no more "choc" will be fed to the pigs at the farm.

Everything for QUALITY —nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarettey aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.
